WHO NEEDS IT

Are you spending most of your day standing or sitting? Are you a professional photographer, doctor, bartender, chef or taxibeater? Or maybe an easy rider roaming around on your bike? A new mommy? Do you carry heavy things around? Perhaps you always had a lower back sensitivity or a troubled relationship with...lumbago? Well, don't let it rule your life! Listen to what your back tells you to do and protect it in the most stylish way (you won't regret it)!

DID YOU KNOW?

8 out of 10 adults will experience some back pain in their lumbar spine at some point in their life. Despite what we may believe, our intervertebral discs are gradually degenerating, no, they are not as flexible as they were during puberty. What is more, sedentary life (those long hours in the office), a simple snap move, carrying heavy things, intense training or even painful menstruation can make these back pains even worse, and make us feel more vulnerable than ever! Every year 50% of adults will develop Lumbago and in most cases it is caused by external and not internal factors. Neglecting the symptoms can even lead to leg pain.
